

FREE LECTURES

Magical Mondays

Experience the magical workings of science with free lectures and hands-on demonstrations by UAF faculty!

Mondays at 7 p.m. in 201 Reichardt

June 9
Remote Sensing of Active Volcanoes: From the ground to space and back

PETER WEBLEY, Assistant Research Professor, Geophysical Institute

June 16
Hidden Animals of Alaska's Seas

ARNY BLANCHARD, Research Associate Professor, Institute of Marine Science

June 23
Where Am I? The What, Why, and How of Global Positioning Systems (GPS)

KATIE KENNEDY, Education & Outreach Coordinator, Scenarios Network for Alaska & Arctic Planning (SNAP), and CHRISTINE BUTCHER, Education and Outreach Assistant

July 7
Physics: It's as sweet as chocolate

EMMA MARCUCCI, Postdoctoral Fellow, Geophysical Institute

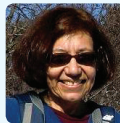

July 14
Planetarium Show: The solar system and beyond

NATE MURPHY, Postdoctoral Fellow, Geophysical Institute

July 21
Creating Color: Pigments and dyes

MARECA GUTHRIE, Assistant Professor of Art and Curator of Fine Arts, University of Alaska Museum of the North

July 28
Parka Patterns, Dolls and Headdresses: The mathematics in Yup'ik measurement techniques

ARACELLI VALLE, Developmental Psychologist

August 4
Using Unmanned Aerial Systems to Study Alaska's Environment

EYAL SAIET, Investigator at Alaska Center for Unmanned Aircraft System Integration

August 11
Incredible Alaskan Insects

MELISSA SIKES, Natural Resource Education Specialist at Fairbanks Soil and Water Conservation District

PRESENTED IN ASSOCIATION WITH

Holland America Line

