

Sound and Story The Evolution of Radio Journalism

Award winning journalist Neal Conan was the final host of Talk of the Nation. Conan also served as editor, producer, and executive producer of NPR's flagship evening newsmagazine, All Things Considered and, at various times, acted as NPR's foreign editor, managing editor, and news director.

A one-credit course with NPR's Neal Conan

July 7–10, Monday–Thursday, 6–9:30 p.m., Bunnell 313

History and development of radio journalism, from its origins as the live transmission of a single voice to the myriad forms made possible by digital technology. The course will focus on storytelling, how techniques changed with technology, and how writing and vocal performance remain critical to the medium.

COURSE NO. JRN F195-F01 (CRN 52020). 1 credit. Cost $178

REGISTER NOW

www.uaf.edu/summer/registration/phone or text 907-474-7021

...AND DON'T MISS
Neal Conan and Ken Rudin in

Friday
July 11
7 p.m.

Wood Center Ballroom

Tickets $10, available from

- If Only...A Fine Store (cash or check)
- Summer Sessions & Lifelong Learning (Mastercard, Visa, cash or check)